

PHASE II – CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT (IN MONTEREY, CA) (MASL P309132)

Each Mobile Education Team (MET) course in the IDARM series can be developed using a three-phased approach in partnership with the host country's military and civilian leadership and managers. This MET is the second phase.

The curriculum development phase is conducted at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) in Monterey, CA. During Phase II, an overview of the proposed curriculum will be presented for the participating country's approval. Visiting delegates will be engaged in customizing and tailoring the proposed curriculum to best meet the needs of their country. In addition, briefings and visits will be arranged to enhance delegates' understanding of the defense acquisition process.

Course Dates:

This phase is customized given a country's specific requirements.

Please contact IDARM Program Manager for scheduling.